DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 12-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The dependency of claims 12-20 is unclear. Applicant has claimed apparatus type limitations dependent upon method type claims. It appears that claims 12-20 are intended to depend upon claim 11.

Regarding claim 15, there is no antecedent basis for "the reduction method's minimum two time periods."

Regarding claim 16, there is no antecedent basis for "the first minimum time period" or "the second minimum time period."

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the

Art Unit: 2841

United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-4, 7-14, 17-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Krstulovic [US 6,305,839].

Regarding claims 11, 12-14, 17-20, Krstulovic discloses a wristwatch [2] containing a period based, time interval smoking reduction method to aid cigarette smokers to gradually decrease the number of cigarettes smoked over a period of time, the watch comprising:

a display of the reduction method's scheduled time intervals between smoking events [14, column 4 lines 54-60];

means providing a visual display of the reduction method's daily, overall goal and current status [18, column 4 lines 8-14];

means providing a visual display of the reduction method cigarette count and goal cigarette count [column 2 line 60 - column 3 line 18].

Regarding claims 1-4 and 7-10, the claimed method steps would have been inherent in the product structure.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 5-6 and 15-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Krstulovic in view of Behar et al. [US 4,853,854].

Regarding claims 15-16, Krstulovic discloses the claimed invention except for the device controlling smoking events within particular time periods.

Behar et al. discloses associating behavioral events (such as smoking a cigarette) with certain time periods and modifying a cessation program therewith, see abstract.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use particular time periods in the smoking cessation program of Krstulovic as suggested by Behar et al. for the purpose of specifically personalize the program to the characteristics of the user's habit.

Regarding claims 5-6, the claimed method steps would have been necessitated by the product structure.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Reid [US 6,125,082]; Brue [US 2001/0027794 A1].
